

A large audience! Of course. Do you imagine the presentation of "Erminie" ounced, with the original And it is a production—artistic, unique, perfect. Why not? Mr. Aronson told me last night that it was the 575th performance, that the scenery, accessories, etc., were transplanted from New York, that the transplanted from New York, that the company is in constant rehearsal, and that all the surroundings were as familiar to the actors as if they were on their native heath. And it was apparent. Mr. Wilson, as the premier of grand larceny, acted with the enthusiasm of a conscientious artist faithfully endeavoring to create a part. His foll—Mr. Daboil—seemed unconscious of the fact that he has been a professional thief for almost two years. Mass Pauline Hall was as charming, as awest voiced, and as graceful as if dependent upon this individual performance to establish the popularity of "Erminio." Miss Marie Jansen was as plquant as a soubrette intent upon making an impression. Messrs. Hallem, Pinniett, and Oimi seemed to be unconscious of personal transmigration, and executed their stage business with the fidelity of good habit. And why should this not have been? Was not the familiar features of Mr. Jesse Williams before them? Was there not a sea of merry faces, now rippling with appreciation of the sparkling dialogue, now rising and falling before them? Was there not a sea of merry faces, now rippling with appreciation of the sparkling dialogue, now rising and falling with the cadences of sweet melody, and now surging with a storm of applause, to subside only when good nature responded to repeated calls? It was a treat. "Erminie" is here for but one week. See it. And (if you care to have a seat) I would urge you to bear in mind that a play house is not an omnibus.

Did you ever see the "Hearts of Oak?"
Yes? Then you know what a simple, homely story of rugged human nature it is.
No? Then you have missed one of those sweet hours of rest, when the flurried and worried train listens to the throbbings of a true and sturdy heart. Air! I just a wading in oratorical dish-water this morsing? Never mind. The "Hearts of Oak" is a grand, good play. As a vohicle for dramatic favor it is getting to resemble the "one-hose shay" a little, and when its oblituary is written the head-line will have to be, "Died of old age." But it is a good play. Understand me, I can see James Herne as Terry Dennison again and again and not weary of the artist nor despise the embodiment of the sentiment.

I would like to be able to say that there were more of the same mind. But, alas! Hearts were not trumps last night. The foundation of the piece is excellent and the cast fairly good. Mr. Herne is the same Terry as of old, and I can say no more of the general performance than to promise those who attend one of those dramatic pictures which linger in the mind, grouping, in the happlest of memories, incidents which impart a silver lining to the cloude which shape themselves in the sunset of "remembrance." NEW NATIONAL THEATER.

Now let the band waltz me down to

BARRIS'S BLIOU THEATER.

The grand spectacular drama, "Michael Strogoff," was presented last night to a full house. The Minuet Carnival Company handles the characters, and on the whole handles them fairly well. Not the least attractions of the performance are the ballet led by Mile. Vivo Farrand, the wire-walking of Hewiette, and the French grotasque dancing by the Mauvels. The piece is staged with Manager Haynes's usual care and completeness; and, when I consider the scale of prices and the fact that daily matinees are given, I can promise you a good return for your money and an agreeable entertainment for your time. What more can you ask?

KERNAN'S THEATER. The entertainment at this house last Two Couples Bave Sufficient of the The entertainment at this house last night was, as usual, excellent and well patronized. I must compilment the Kernans upon the honest endeavors they are putting forth to furnish you with high-class variety entertainments. And, by the way, Mr. Kernan very naturally feels that the blundering newspaper gossip is not "doing him proud" when he hints to the public that the manager is a trifle loose about his license matters. Mr. Kernan knows what he is about, and those licenses are just as the law requires. Mind you, I ain't paid to say this.

Mr. and Mrs. Jules Levy and a party of friends occupied a box at the National last night. In response to a large number of calls Mr. Levy and his company will give another concert (with an entire change of programme) at the National Theater next Sunday night. On this occasion he will perform upon the solid gold instrument presented him by the queen of England.

Mr. E. D. Price, manager for Mr. Richard Mansfield, telegraphs me that his star opened at the Holiday Street Theater, Baltimore, last night in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and that he "scored a brilliant success; was received with great enthusiasm, and created an enduring impression."

Mr. Aronson, proprietor of the Casino Opera Company, called upon the President yesterday.

BILLY FORD.

RETURN OF CAPT. GRIFFIN. He Will Formulate a Report to the Commissioners.

Capt. Griffin, of the District engineer department, was yesterday at his design the District buildings after an absence of several days visiting large cities in search of information to be applied locally. He speaks enthusisetically of his trip and the benefit be received therefrom. He made a benefit he received therefrom. He made a study of street railroads a specialty, with a view of obtaining data on the motive powers in use. He has collected many facts respecting the electric and cable roads, and these he will shortly incorporate in his report to the commissioners. Capt. Griffin has naturally an aptitude in electric matters, and has given this branch of science much study and thought. His opinion, therefore, on the electric motor will be one worth reading. He has not as yet pronounced his preferences, but it is believed that he favors to some extent the electric system.

There Was No Fraud Shown. The Supreme Court of the United States yesterday in the case of Jane C. Hitz against John S. and W. H. Jenks and sgainst John S, and W. H. Jonks and others affirmed the decree of the supreme court of this District. This, with others, was a case growing out of the German-American National Bank failure. It seems that Mrs. Hits signed a deed making a conveyance to Miss Crane which she afterward tried to have declared null and void on the ground that she did not understand the nature of the document at the time of signing it. The court held that the deed was valid, and that no fraud had been shown.

It is understood that, owing to the increased demand for coal and the inability of the rallroad companies to transport it in sufficient quantities, the attention of many speculators has been attracted to Alexandria as a shipping point, and it is believed that the building of a new mineral railway will shortly be begun.

were arrested on Sunday night last, charged with obtaining money under faise pretenses through the medium of alleged performance, were brought before the mayor yesterday, and were fined $25.00 each. There is no law that could be directly applied to their case, except one which provides against a performance of that character on Sunday, so the mayor could only impose a mere nominal fine. He, however, took occasion to reprimand the officers of the force, saying that should it again come to his attention that a police officer had been in attendance upon a performance on Sunday night he would suspend him from the force.

Mr. Jeffries, who succeeded Capt. Davis as superintendent of the National Soldiers' Cemetery, in this city, has, at his own request, been transferred back to Grafton, W. Va., on account of ill-health. It is stated that in all probability Capt. Davis will be called back to this city.

THE SENTENCE JUST.

Opinion of One of the Attorneys'for the Anarchists.

Judge Dert, formerly associated with Capt. Black, the attorney for the anarchists, was seen by a REPUBLICAN representative yesterday evening. Referring to the now celebrated case, Judge Dent said the sentence was a just one, and was so regarded celebrated case, Judge Dent said the sentence was a just one, and was so regarded by nearly all the thinking men of Chicago. Gov. Oglesby gave the matter earnest consideration, and he thought that the finding of the bombs in the cells, Lingg's suicide, together with the sullen demeanor of the three men who refused to sign the petition for clemency, had great weight with the governor, otherwise it might have been different. As to the reports that had been circulated as to large numbers leaving Chicago it was all newspaper talk. The city was thoroughly patroled and the dangerous element closely watched.

The judge thought it might have been more judicious, in view of the multered threats at the funeral of the anarchists, had the state refused to deliver the bodies to the relatives. He apprehended no further organized attack on the part of their friends, but thought it not unlikely some crank might attempt individual violence to those prominent in the prosecution. A statute has been passed, providing that processions shall have authority from the mayor to parade, who also decides as to the transparencies and banners that may be carried. It has also a conspiracy clause which will effectually probable a repetition of the flery utterances which led to the Haymarket riots. Judge Dent has some important cases to argue in the Supreme Court which will detain him here some days.

NOT ENTITLED TO A SHARE. A Decision Under the Contract for Building the Reservoir.

It was averred that he got the contract for them and was in their employ until April 1, 1884, when John E. Herrel, who was to furnish the money and have a one-third interest in the contract, and Gleason re-tired, and one Peterson was to lurnish the money. He claims that Peterson and Her-rell are answerable to him. SEEKING AND OBTAINING.

Married Life.

Anna Abell has petitioned for dissolu-tion of the marriage bond uniting her with James N. Abell, and asks permission to resume her malden name. Mr. S. A. Cox, who files the bill as attorney, states that the parties were married in Georgetown Dec. 6, parties were married in Georgetown Dec. 6, 1886, by Rev. Dr. Lindsey, rector of St. John's Church. The wife cites a number of acts of cruel treatment, and charges her husband with the death of her infant to which she gave premature death, and de-clares that she cannot live with him, for her life would be in constant danger. She further charges that he has committed adultery with Mollie Booth and other women.

adultery with Mollie Booth and other women.

Justice Merrick yesterday granted Dorathea Chester divorce from John C. Chester, giving ber the custody of the children. The bill was filed by L. C. Wood as attorney, and states that the petitioner's maiden name was 1 orathea McDermott and that they were married in this city Oct. 10, 1870. She charges him with being an babitual drunkard, with cruel treatment of her, and finally with deserting her and their children.

Promoting Good Fellowship. The Six o'Clock Club is the name of a new association just formed in Washington, the objects being to promote good fellow-ship and have a good time generally. The following are the principles on which the association is founded: "No club house, no dues, no debts, no fines, no constitution, no by-laws, no president, no usher, no steward, no salaries, no accounts, no defalcations, no salaries, no accounts, no defalcations, no long speeches, no parliamentary rules, no claw-hammer coats, no dudes, no personalities, no bores, no gambing, no preaching, no cant, no gush, no dead-beats, no dead-beads." There is to be a weekly dinner given at Solari's and a general discussion of current topics. An executive committee has been chosen consisting of Maj. J. W. Powell. Thos. E. Benedict, Col. W. G. Moore, A. B. Mullett, P. T. Dodge, W. A. Croffutt, C. P. Lincoln, and A. B. Johnson.

THE PRESENCE OF AMMONIA IN THE

ORDAINED FOOD OF MAN. Its Detection Publicly Claimed by the Ohle State Food Commissioners.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]
"The Obio state dairy and food commissioner, Gen. S. H. Hurst, has made public (Circular No. 6) the results of the commis sion's investigation of balting powder. This commission was formed by the legislature, with instructions to make an examination of the food supply of the state, and to give with instructions to make an examination of the food supply of the state, and to give a report of such examination to the public. The examination of the baking powders was made by Prof. H. A. Weber, state chemist, and relating as it does to an article of daily use in the food of almost every one, is of particular interest."

The startling fact is brought out by the report that the "Royal" baking powder coutains carbonate of ammonia—a powerful but unclean gas-generating substance originally derived from animal excrement. It is but fair to say that the commissioners found Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder free from this poisonous drug, and that it is recommended by government chemists, the heads of the great universities, and public food analyists as the purest, strongest, and most healthful for general family use.

As health is paramount to all other considerations, we would advise all housekeepers, for the detection of concealed ammonia and other deleterious drugs, as well as to determine the purity of any baking powder, to make this simple test: Mix in a tin cup a heaping tesspoonful of the powder with two tesspoonsful of cold water, place it over the fire, stirring it constantly, and allow it to boil, then smell. If adulterated that unspeakable odor proving the source of ammonia will be plainly detected. The presence of ammonia in most cases indicates that alum is used, as nearly all the alum of commerce contains ammonia. Pure baking powder will not give the faintest ammonia-cal-odor.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION. Under the Auspices of the District Union.

Wesley M. E. Chapel was fairly well filled last night at the oprning session of the Sunday school convention which is being held there this week under the auing held there this week under the auspices of the Sunday School Union of the District of Columbia, Mr. W. H. H. Smith, superintendent of the Western Presbyterian Church Sunday school, and president of the District Sunday School Union, was in the chair, and, after the preliminary exercises were over, he made a very pleasing and lucid statement of the objects and aims of the convention. He was followed by Rev. A. C. Dixon, of Baltimore, who delivered a most instructive address on "The True Sunday School Idea." The speaker's sentiments had the right ring in them, and he seemed to strike a resposive chord in the breast of every Sunday school worker present.

The second session will commence at 4 o'clock this afternoon, when addresses will be delivered by Mr. L. D. Aiden, superintendent of St. Paul's Lutheran Church intendent of St. Paul's Lutheran Church Sunday school, on "Systematic giving in the Sunday school," and by Rev. George Eiliott, D. D., pastor of Foundry M. E. Church, on "The teacher's responsible work."

The third session will commence at 7:30 this evening, and Mrs. Emms S. Todd, of Baltimore, will talk of "The primary work and worker," to be followed by an address on "The importance of singing as a part of Sunday school work," by Mr. J. Frank Supplee, of Baltimore, who will intersperse his remarks with choice vocal selections.

There will also be two sessions to-morrow.

AFTER FIFTEEN YEARS. An Ardent Lover Makes a Second At-

Examination showed that it was dated Dec. 17, 1879, and made out in the names of Charles Jackson, of this city, aged 30, and Laura Queen, of Maryland, aged 31.

"I don't see why it should not be," replied Assistant Clerk Clancy "It bas not been used. But is it for the same parties as it was originally intended?"

"Yes, sir; the same ones."

"Well, how this long delay? Ind the girl change her mind?"

"I was asked to marry them, but dil not think the paper good. If it is I will go ahead."

YOU SHOULD EAT OIL. Mr. John Chamberlin on the Great American Disease, Dyspepsia.

[New York Sun.]
"Americans as a classeat as much oil with their salads as did the Venetians in the time of Medici," said John Chamberlin to a journalist the other day. "But it took a great many years to overcome their early Puritanical prejudices. In the minds of the descendants of the Puritans there was Puritanical prejudices. In the minds of the descendants of the Puritans there was a strong but unconscientious association between Catholicism and French cookery, and oil being extensively used by the French in the preparation of their food, these descendants, like their ancestors, had a strong aversion for it. To the Puritans popery was the sum of all abominations, and the French people were to them the exemplars of popery. Therefore whatever was French was strongly opposed by the Puritans. The French were dancers, and the Puritans were quite naturally opposed to it. In fact, all of our blue laws were compiled on a basis opposing something French.

"Americans are a cosmopolitan people and made up of the representatives of all nations. The Puritan is a representative of England, because England is, and always has been since the reformation, anti-popery. The test of what was right was what the Catholics did not do. They even removed the cross from their churches because Catholics used the sacred emblem. The Puritan was incomfortable. They imagined that to deserve heaven here siter they were obliged to live in a sort of modified heil on earth. They rightly concluded that dyspepsia was the best rapresentation of the tortures of the bottomiless pit, and the surest way to contract it was to cachew oil in their selads. This is the true origin of the American disease, dyspepsia.

"Salads, when droperly prepared, are the most enjoyable part of dainty dinners. They are cooling to the stomach. They assist digesion, which is often needed after a dinner of heavy joints and side dishes. They relieve the feeling of follows so often complained of by fast esters, and their irreparation at table animates conversation. When bathed is pure olive oil they become nature's choicest gifts. Dyspepsia and crauky, idiotte ideas are unknown to the lover of a well made saind."

ACTIVITY IN STOCKS.

Higher Prices Yesterday Than at Any Time for a Week, New York, Nov. 14 .- The stock market to-day was more active than for some weeks and prices higher than at any time last week. The news of the disturbances in London yesterday led to the expectation that prices from that center would be lower this morning, but the reverse was the case, and a strong and active opening occurred here. Considerable excitement attended here. Considerable excitement attended the early trading.

Further marked advances were made in the first hour, after which there was a heavy decrease in the amount of business done, though prices were well maintained. Further gains were established in the afternoop when the market became rather feverish, but the best figures in several stocks were made in the last hour, the close being active and firm at or near the highest figures of the day.

Money on call has been easy, ranging from 3½ to 5, last loan at 5, and closing offered at 4. Sterling exchange is steady and dull. Actual business at 48½ to 489 for 60-day bills and 485 to 485½ for demand. Posted rates 482½ to 485½. Government bonds dull and steady to firm.

New York agent; College of Electrical En gineering, IZZ East Twenty-sixth street,
Agent, $1,
Valuable as introducing the early powter of the great deatined world motor. The ers of the great destined world motor. The science of electricity is here shown to be marching with the assured step of majesty, and its victories on every field are about to be proclaimed. Among these glories one of vast importance seems now on the eve of display. It is the navigation of the air by electric ships. The model represented here is exhibited at 281 Broadway. We can find nothing in the plan but positive success.

STORIES OF PERSONS AND PLACES IN EUROPE. By E. L. BEREDICT, New York: George Routledge & Sons, 9 Lafayette Piace, For sale by Robert Beall, 495 Pennsylvania avenue. Price, $1.50.

Another of the series of handsomely-

Another of the series of handsomely-illustrated books suitable for the young which have become so popular. These "Stories of Persons and Places" treat in an illustrative way of the countries of Europe, and by this means the young people can the easier obtain the information they need arout the countries of the world. The noted physical features, antiquities, legends, historical events and personages, industries, and works of art are all treated in a clear and interesting style, which can-in a clear and interesting style, which can-not fail to interest the young and even those of larger growth.

GUATEMALA, THE LAND OF THE QUET-ZAL. By WILLIAM T. BRINIAM, A. M. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. For sale by William Ballantyne & Son. Fice So. A most valuable contribution to the monographs of that interesting country and made more so by the increasing imand made more so by the increasing importance of Central America, both politically and geographically. This book will to doubt awaken among Americans greater interest in the much neglected region between the republic of Mexico and the Isthmus of Darien. The work has a large number of full page flustrations as well as numerous text illustrations, all made from photographs taken by the author.

SETH'S BROTHER'S WIFE. A study of life in the greater New York, by Hanolin FREDERIC. New York. Charles Scribner's Sons. For sale by Ballantyne & Son. Price $1,25.

This story appeared as a sereal in Scribner's Magazine when it created great inner's Magazine when it created great in-terest, so much so that its appearance in book form seemed to be demanded by the public. The scenes are laid in the interior of New York state. It is a story of real merit, and will no doubt be largely sought after. The scene between Milton and Annie is one the like of which can scarcely be found in any work of fiction.

THE MODERN VIKINGS. Stories of Life and Sport in the Norseland. By Prof. HJAIMAR H. BOYESEN, New York: Chas. Scribner's Sons. For sale by Ballantyne & Son. Price, $2. These stories for the young are simple, but breathe a healthy, bracing atmosphere. The interesting phases of adventurous life and sport among daring and hardy races will be gladly received by every boy fond of novelty and stirring romance.

BOOK NEWS. John Wanamaker, Philadel-phia. 50 cents per year. Invaluable to all readers. It aims to give prompt and accurate information as regards every new book—its scope, its real worth, and the price. Each month it presents interesting miscellaneous items, and also articles of great interest to students, authors, and publishers.

LINCOLN (NEBRASKA) ILLUSTRATED AND LINCOLN'S GROWTH, Published under the suspices of the Lincoln Board of Trade-Gives every description of the growth of the city, and shows the increase during the past twelve months to be remarkable and unparalleled, and far exceeds the growth of any other city of similar size in the United States for the same period.

MAGAZINE OF AMERICAN HISTORY. Ed-ited by MBS. MARTHA J. LAMB. This splendid publication grows in in-terest and importance, and is better appre-ciated every month. No teacher can afford to be without it. In its own chosen field it stands alone. The November number has a fine portrait of Oliver Cromwell and a table of contents fresh and attractive.

A STORY OF THE GOLDEN AGE. By JAMES BALDWIN. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. From Ballantyne & Son. Price, $2. This is another of Mr. Baldwin's books written for the benefit of boys and girls. The story is simply and strongly told and with a fascination that characterizes all the works of this author. The boys of this works of this author. The boys of this country are to be congratulated upon the appearance of this book, and we highly commend it to parents who are looking for good books for their children. The author says: "My object in writing this 'Story of the Golden Age' has been to paye the way, if dare I say it, to an enjoyable reading of Homer, either in translation or in the original. The hero of the Odys sey—a character not always to be admired or commended—is my hero. And, in telling the story of his boyhood and youth, I have taken the opportunity to repeat, for have taken the opportunity to repeat, for your enjoyment, some of the most beautiful of the old Greek wyths." When a man has been snatched, as it were, from the very jaws of death, and given a new lease of healthy life by means of a simple remedy, it is natural for him to be enthusiastic remody, it is natural for him to be enclusived in in his praise of the means which delivered him from deadly peril. Mr. B. H. Byrd, who is the posimaster at Lady Lake, Suinter county, Fla., as well as a leading merchant of that place, under date of May 4, 1887, writes:

under date of May 4, 1887, writes:

GENTLEMEN, Allow me to congratulate and return thanks for the wonderful success your 8, 8, 8, has proved in my case. You remetaber about a year ago I wrote you in reference to my case. I was treated by three skillful physicians, but with no relief. I suffered a great deal of uncasiness, besides a great deal of pain. I must say that the contents of one dozen bottles of 5, 8, 8, has almost removed a cancer from my face, which no doubt would have soon hurled me to my grave. soon burried me to my grave.

McDonald's Patent FILTER FAUCET.

PURE WATER IS AN ABSOLUTE REQUI-SITE TO HEALTH. The only true way to obtain Pure Water is by the filtering process. Most filters now in use require constant attention; become closed with fifth, vermin, or animalcule, in other words, they become in themselves Gesspools of Disease.

The McDonald Filter Is Self-Cleansing, Simple, and

Cheap. There is no packing to wear out. The substance through which the water passes is a granulated gold quarts, nearly as hard as a diamond. Nothing can pass through it but water. It is doubt acting, and, as it turns only one way, no mistake can possibly occur. The plumbing trade is invited to examine and test this most valuable, economical, and simple tracevement. and test this most variable, carefulars, terms, simple improvement.
